

WEDDING JOURNEY

Congrats, you're engaged! As you begin to form the vision for your wedding day, contact us early to learn about our detailed entertainment services and schedule your consultation. You can also take advantage of our diverse network of the most sought after venues and wedding professionals.

At your initial consultation, we can help you to create a custom entertainment package for your wedding. Along with your creative wedding ideas, some other details we'll need from you may include your venue and set-up locations, wedding date, time frame, etc. Upon booking, you will receive the Entertainment Express Planning Portfolio.

Now that you're booked, you can start pre-planning. It's important to decide which elements of the day you'd like to focus on when prioritizing your time and talk to family and friends about their involvement. You should also start listening to music and exploring the Entertainment Express Planning Portfolio and eedjs.com for some great suggestions. Our team will contact you to schedule a planning meeting 2-3 months prior to your big day, but feel free to stay in touch with any questions along the way.

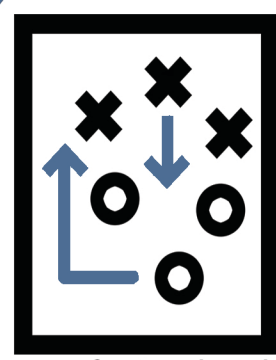

Entertainment Express Planning Portfolio and eedjs.com for some great suggestions. Our team will contact you to schedule a planning meeting 2-3 months prior to your big day, but feel free to stay in touch with any questions along the way.

With just a few months before your big day, we will be sitting down with you for the official planning meeting. Be sure to bring your completed Planning Portfolio, playlists, song ideas, and other important info from your venue or other vendors. Your MC/Wedding Director will help you to organize all of the information you've been gathering into a cohesive, smooth-flowing timeline, while offering professional insight on prioritizing your time and sorting out any remaining decisions or details.

After the planning meeting, you will have a clear idea of how your wedding day will unfold. As you await the official Wedding Timeline, it is important to complete any pending decisions or details from the Final To-Do List that was prepared at your planning meeting. Once you've received the timeline, you should review it carefully and notify our team of any corrections or updates while making sure that we have all of the necessary content needed to execute your wedding day perfectly. It's recommended that you share the final Wedding Timeline with your venue and wedding professionals.

As you prepare for your wedding rehearsal, the Entertainment Express Timeline can be a great resource. Find out in advance who will be coordinating your rehearsal. This can often be handled by a professional wedding coordinator, venue managers, a wedding officiant, or a member of the Entertainment Express team. Be sure to review set up and arrival times, meet-up locations, and check-lists of items to bring.

You made it! Now that all of the planning and preparation is complete, it's time to celebrate. We understand that your wedding day can feel like a blur, so focus on enjoying every moment while our Entertainment Express team guides you, step by step, through the day. This will give you peace of mind, so that you can simply enjoy yourself and leave the details to us.
